

The Home Office Helper

Volume 1, Issue 24, February, 2006

Video Blogging??!!

If “blogging” is great, how much better would a video blog be? Now you can do just that with Vlog It! from Serious Magic. And with Vlog It! you won’t have to use complex video editing tools either. Want to learn more?

More Details

Hot Hardware!

Using Skype for your voice services? Then you’ll want this cool new cordless phone system from Linksys. Expandable to 4 handsets, color screen, intercom and more. Find out more here.

More Details

Voice over IP First-Step

Vonage, VoiceWing, Packet8, Call Vantage—as if it wasn’t confusing enough already, now you have to decide whether you want a “regular” PSTN telephone service or one based on VoIP. Before you decide, this book can help you understand how PSTN telephony works, and how VoIP services “change the rules”.

More Details

Tech Spotlight

If you’re planning on, or have implemented VoIP services for your home business, you’ll want to ensure that your home router supports Quality of Service to ensure that your voice calls get priority over your data transmissions. One type of QoS is Type of Service (ToS). Find out more about ToS here!

More Details

Tired of Typing?

Tired of typing? Does “hunt and peck” take you too long? Then check out Nuance’s Dragon Naturally Speaking 8 Preferred.—accurate voice recognition software for your desktop or laptop. It integrates with Microsoft Office and your Pocket PC or Palm handheld/smartphone as well. Find out more here!

More Details

Hot Finds!

Running a small home business that doesn’t have a lot of financial complexity. Comfortable with Excel and don’t want to learn how to use QuickBooks or PeachTree Accounting? Then our “hot find” for February is for you! Check out the software (and paper-based as well) products from BigEZ. Simple bookkeeping capabilities at a great price.

More Details

To remove your name from our mailing list, please click here.

Questions or comments? E-mail us at dmielke@homeofficereports.com or call 972-529-9719.

<http://www.homeofficereports.com>